Roxborough Reservoir

An old reservoir that was converted into a small park. Come for the reeds, blackbirds, & sunset.

Carpenter's Woods

Bird heaven, with a tiny creek running

Hi. My name is NOVA and I am 19 yrs. old. I have never been to a zine pavilion. My moms are both named Nicole (I know, I know) and this is their 1st time tabling (?) @ the ALAAC. They run a store just off South Street here in Philly. They love art. Given that I AM ART I don't know why they have been there all weekend and not at home admiring me. Something about libraries and zines and meow meow.

WHATEVER. Send Chorus.

tired of all these boots

This is my first in-person ALA conference.
My first ALA conference since finding work as a librarian! So far the people are great + the vibes are on point!

I'm here on Saturday, June 28, 2025.
ALA is in Philly this year - so am I!
I'm a librarian + a union worker.
Our contract with the City of Philadelphia will expire ~~after~~ ^{after} this conference, at midnight on June 30 (12:01 July 1).

The city has not met our demands and our union (AFSCME DC47 2187) has not been transparent about if they have even attempted to bargain w/ the city.

library assistants
security guards, custodial, mail room

We are expecting our colleagues in Philly to STRIKE on Tuesday, July 1.
Cherelle Parker, our Mayor, was at ALA on Friday, June 27. No one protested her being here, and she did a great job of making it seem like she's pro-union. She is NOT, and has been unable as of writing, to settle a single union agreement this year.

ALA is fun + energizing, but Philly library workers are confused, lacking info/misinformation, not being treated w/ respect by our employer, and we are MAD.
