

Conflict Management

Directions: Take your values write up and create a 10 page Zine. Every page will be filled with pictures, words and illustrations that demonstrate what is most important to you.

When you read the Zine one way it will tell the story of who you are, where you are from, and what is important to you. Then when you turn the Zine over, it will tell the story of where you are going (your goals and dreams for the next 5-10 years).

Please read the rubric below and keep it in mind as you complete your Zine. They are Due

Wednesday 10/29

Provide students with envelopes for zines

Areas of assessment	Exceeds	Advanced	Meets	Nearly Meets	Does Not Meet
Visuals	Visuals are innovative and out of the box. They fill every page and deepen the reader's understanding of your values and goals.	Visuals are creative. They fill the pages and connect to your values and goals.	Visuals fill the page and clearly connect with your values and goals.	Visuals do not fill the page and seem to be random and unconnected.	Visuals barely fill the pages and have no connections to values and goals.
Content	The zine is creative and out of the box. Words and visuals connect to tell a story of who you are, where you came from, where you are going and what is important to you.	The zine tells a story of who you are, where you are from, where you are going, and what is important to you through words and pictures. It is creative and clear. Completely finished.	The zine tells a story of where you have been and how you got there.	The zine is unclear and confusing. Does not tell a story and content is missing a clear line of thought	The zine is incomplete and unfinished. Reader cannot infer or understand anything
Expertise	You use all of the techniques taught by our guest and combine them in a creative and out of the box way.	You uses all of the techniques taught by our guest.	You use a variety of techniques that were taught by our guest.	You use one or two techniques taught by our guest.	You use one of the techniques taught by our guest.